

It has been a very busy year already. Thank you for your prayers and support

We left for Colombia on January 3rd to make our second promotional video for Jack and Delores Simon. They live in the city of Tunja, over 9,000 feet high in the Andes mountains with 10 universities including one of the 4 national universities in Colombia.

The Simons are pastoring a church in Tunja, training many young pastors and working with satellite churches in the mountain towns and villages around Tunja.

Del Bemis

While in Colombia we learned that Barb's father, Del Bemis, had died. Barb's family arranged for the burial to be held in Spokane after we returned from Colombia. Because it was late January and snow was still on the ground, the family decided to hold Dad's memorial service this spring when more of Dad's older friends and family could attend.

You can see the video that we made for Simons on the Mission DVDs page of our Web site.

In the video you will hear a couple of comments about the Catholics and the Christians. In this part of Colombia even the Catholic priest refers to his church as Catholics and the Evangelical Christians as Christians.

The Simons Praying at the Altar

We also hoped to make a trip back to Cameroon, Africa this spring to work with Jim and Cynthia Lemons. But we did not have the funds for the trip. Working with missionaries on the field allows us to get a variety of video images of the country and the missionaries as they are working with people. Part of our job is to capture images that are unique to the culture, images that the missionaries have gotten use to seeing.

Even though we are unable to go to the Lemons, we will still be able to produce a video for them. When we were in Cameroon last year making a video for David and Carol Schmidt, we met the Lemons (they lived right next door). We will be able to use some of the video of the country and culture that we took for the Schmidts in the Lemons' video.

When the Lemons come home this summer, their first itineration trip will be to San Diego in July. They will go right past us here in Kingman, AZ. They have already sent us their script and photos.

Between now and July, we will begin the editing process by recording the narration, designing the graphics, selecting the photos and using some of the Cameroon video we took last year with the Schmidts. The Lemons will spend a few days with us in July to videotape the opening and closing segments of their video. Hopefully we will be able to give them a finished DVD before they continue on their way to San Diego.

Update on Barb's book

Barb has completed her parenting Bible study workbook, Grow A Wise Heart. She has just sent it to a publishing agent. Thank you for your prayers and support as this part of her plan for a parenting resource package is accomplished. She has already begun working on the second workbook which is about parenting through the various stages of child development. That workbook will be called, Keep A Clear Head.

Travel

We will soon travel to Spokane for Dad's memorial. We already have meetings scheduled with several pastors along the way and will continue making more phone calls trying to set up more meetings. We will present our ministry at an evening service at a church in Idaho (friends from San Diego now attend there). Once again we will also give a presentation at the adult care facility when Barb's parents lived.

Prayer Requests

1. The Lemons' video
2. Our trip to Spokane and favor with the pastors we meet
3. Favor with publishing agent for the parenting Bible study
4. Our trip to Colombia later this summer
5. Continued health and wisdom for Barb and Mac.

God bless,
Mac & Barb
